SHORT COURSE IS TO BE DISCUSSED

Meeting Called by Chamber of Commerce Committee For Saturday Afternoon at 2 O'Clock.

GENERAL INVITATION ISSUED

G. M. Frier of Purdue Extension Department Will be Here to Explain Work Required.

The Chamber of Commerce of Rush county today announced a meeting of citizens for Saturday afternoon to discuss plans to bring a Purdue short course to the doors of Rush county farmers. The announcement follows:

A meeting of citizens of Rush county interested in bringing here some time shortly after the first of the year a Purdue short course has been called for the court house assembly room at two o'clock next Saturday afternoon by the Purdue extension committee of the Rush County Chamber of Commerce, of which E. B. Thomas is chairman.

At that time G. M. Frier, associate in charge of short courses and exhibits of the Purdue Extension department will be present and explain the values of a short course, how one can be obtained, the expense and work attached and any other details that may be wanted by the Rush county people.

The invitation to the meeting Saturday is general as it is believed that the whole community will be interested in such a project. Not alone farmers but business and professional men as well are urged to co-operate in the movement which will ultimately, without much doubt, bring a short course to the very doors of the farmers of Rush county.

Mr. Frier was here Wednesday of last week and looked over the ground hastily. He was convinced that the accommodations here were ample that there was no reason why a short course should be a mighty big success here. Mr Frier visited several places suggested for lecture rooms and one place in particular for live stock judging and his comment after the visit of inspection was that a short course here would not be hindered in the least for want of local equipment.

Mr. Frier has sent here a brief outline to give some indication of just what would be expected of the local committees and what would be needed in the way of local accommodations. His suggestions, as well as making plain what would have to be done at this end of the line, also give some view of what the short course really is and the good results which may be expected from it.

First of all, there needs to be, according to the outline presented by Mr. Frier, five different committees on whose shoulders would fall the bulk of the work. These committees would be as follows; on advertising and printing, on sale of tickets, on rooms, on corn and on domestic science.

The Purdue men ask that a short course be thoroughly and effectively advertised. Different methods of making the public understand the value of the short course have been devised by the Purdue workers and the committee would be made acquainted with all these methods.

The work of the committee on the sale of tickets will be explained fully at the meeting Saturday.

The duties of the committee on rooms will be to provide suitable

GIVE ADVICE ON CORN GROWING

Dr. J. W. T. Duvel of U. S. Department of Agriculture and Prof. G. I. Christie Speak Here.

ONLY SMALL CROWD ATTENDS

It is Declared Many Farmers Grow Corn That is Too Large and Too Late in Maturing.

Dr. J. W. T. Duvel, of the bureau of grain standardization, Department of Agriculture, Washington, and Prof. George I. Christie, of the agricultural department of Purdue University address a small crowd of farmers and grain dealers this afternoon in the assembly room of the court house. The farmers and grain dealers who did not attend missed a rare opportunity to hear a valuable discussion on corn growing and corn grading.

The new United States standards now used in measuring and grading corn is not generally known to the farmers and the meeting was a disappointment in that more did not attend. From this city the party went to Cambridge City and tonight the meeting will be held in Newcastle.

Numerous charts were used in connection with the explanations made by the speakers and the talks are expected to prove a help to the farmers and grain dealers. Corn was formerly divided into four classes, but now there are six classes. The grain dealers of the state are anxious to secure corn that will meet with the new standards adopted by the United States Department of Agriculture. The farmers are equally as interested in growing

COLISEUM WILL BE WARM FOR MEETING

It is Assured That Building Will be Heated all Day Thursday in Preparation For Speaking.

JACKSON TO GO ON TOUR

Positive assurance is given that the Coliseum will be well heated and that there will be no danger of taking cold at the Republican meeting next Thursday night following the automobile tour of the county during the day, which opens at Milroy and closes with a meeting in the afternoon at Carthage. It was announced today that Judge Ed Jackson of Newcastle, Republican, candidate for secretary of state, would spend Thursday here and be one of the speakers on the automobile tour. He will probably go on the eastern tour and P. J. Lynch, Republican candidate for congress, on the western tour.

The first of a series of factory meetings to be held here by the congressional nominee will take place tomorrow during the noon hour. At twelve-thirty he and others will speak at Innis-Pearce company's furniture factory and men from there, the Park furniture factory, the Reynolds Manufacturing company and the Charles E. Francis company are invited. At twelve-fifty o'clock the same day a similar meeting will be held at the Rushville furniture factory.

ESCAPES BEING HIT BY DISPATCH

Ralph Pea Backs Team Out of Way of I. & C. Car East of Here But One Horse is Hurt.

ANIMAL HAD TO BE KILLED

Tongue Broken Out Which Saves Wagon From Being Overturned —Pea Sticks to Team

Ralph Pea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elsberry Pea narrowly escaped death when the tongue of the oil wagon on which he was riding was struck by the I. & C. westbound dispatch at stop No. 33 a short distance east of here shortly before nine o'clock this morning.

The tongue of the wagon was broken by being sideswiped by the car. Otherwise the wagon was not damaged and the other horse was not hurt.

The motorman of the car, Ira Brannum, of Indianapolis, reported that he saw the wagon but that it was so far from the track he did not suppose that the driver would attempt to get across in front of the car.

But, according to the motorman, just when least expected, Pea whipped up the team and tried to cross the track in front of the car. When the driver saw that he was sure to be hit by the car, he yanked the horses back just as they reached the edge of the track.

But Pea was not able to get the horses back quickly enough to prevent one of them being hit. The horse's leg was broken and it had to be killed. The tongue was broken out of the wagon and by breaking saved the wagon from being turned over.

Pea had no time to jump, it is asserted, because when he realized that the car was upon him, he exerted all of his efforts to get his team back out of the way.

The team belonged to Elsberry Pea and was hitched to a Standard Oil company wagon. The horse killed was a big black one and was a valuable animal.

James Rarrick of Indianapolis was the conductor on the dispatch.

FROST, SNOW AND FREEZE

Three Winter Torments Come Together, Wilting Vegetation.

Frost and freezing temperature laid low all vegetation last night, so low, in fact, that a warm sun today took out a little of the wilt. The first snow of the season fell yesterday evening between five and six o'clock and made necessary the yanking out of winter clothing. The temperature fell as low as twenty-four degrees early this morning. Last night's was the first blighting frost of the fall.

CARNEGIE SPEAKS

(By United Press.)

Pittsburgh, Oct. 27.—A public ceremony with Andrew Carnegie as the principal speaker marked the unveiling of the Robert Burns memorial statue in Schenley Park here today. Upon the "laird of Skibo" fell the duty of presenting the statue to the city on behalf of Mrs. A. R. Peacock, who gave it. Mayor Armstrong made the address of acceptance.

George T. Caldwell has filed on an account against Otis A. Caldwell, demanding $1,700.

NEW DIRECTORS ARE ELECTED

Necessary for Chautauqua Guarantors to Name Six as no Meeting Was Held Last Year

NEW BOARD WILL MEET SOON

Positive Assurance Given That Program Next Year Will be Far Better Balanced Than 1914

At the annual meeting of the guarantors of the Rush County Chautauqua association last night, two new sets of directors were elected and the reports of the secretary J. H. Scholl, and the treasurer, Earl H. Payne, were received.

An auditing committee consisting of Miss Anna Bohannon and Herbert C. Flint was appointed last night and as soon as it is ready to report, the new board of directors will meet and elect new officers, president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

The reports of the two officials show that the chautauqua association has money on hand. It is stated that the receipts of this year's chautauqua paid the expenses of the assembly easily but that the expense of improvements made on the grounds and the Coliseum was met by funds already on hands.

The chautauqua program committee thought that the 1914 program was the best ever given up to that date, and now the committee is promising that the 1915 attractions will be even better. The committee feels now that there was a little too much music on this year's program. The music on the next program will be the equal or better than that of this year and the noted speakers which already have been secured are much more numerous. It is positively declared that next year's program will be by far the best balanced one yet.

Because no annual meeting of the guarantors was held last year, it was necessary this year to elect two sets of directors. There are nine on the board, three elected each year to serve a term of three years. Three directors held over for a fourth year so that six retire at this time and six new directors take their place.

The new directors elected last night are Dr. D. H. Dean, F. E. Wolcott, T. M. Green, R. A. Innis, E. R. Casady and R. G. Rudd. Messers Innis, Casady and Budd, were named to serve only two years so as to conform with the by-law. This will cause three directors to retire each year.

George C. Wyatt, Herbert C. Flint and Andrew C. Brown, have one more year to serve. The six retiring directors are Raymond C. Hargrove, Cary Jackson, Earl H. Payne, J. H. Scholl, C. M. Yocum and Dr. J. B. Kinsinger.

After the election of the president and other officers by the new board of directors, the president will appoint the new committees for the year. The officers which will retire when the board meets are George C. Wyatt, president; Cary Jackson, vice-president; Earl H. Payne, treasurer and J. H. Scholl, secretary.

ASKS PEOPLE TO BE LENIENT

Russell Borden, Held For Theft of Automobile, Addresses Letter to Public.

HIS MOTHER DEAD 16 YEARS

Says he Would Like to Have Suspended Sentence to Show What he Can do.

Russell Borden, the young man in jail charged with stealing the automobile belonging to James Spillman, in a letter to the Daily Republican today makes an appeal for a chance to do good and asks that he be given one more opportunity. Borden's letter is rather pathetic, and to show that he evidently is in earnest, he states that he would like to be put under a suspended sentence. The letter was written in jail and is addressed to "The Citizens of Rushville." It is as follows:

"I, Russell Borden, alias Harold Williams, of Nashville, Tenn., held in the Rush county jail for the theft of the automobile belonging to James Spillman of Milroy, Ind., and of which I confess guilt of said charge and would like to look to the honest and noble people of Rushville as my friends in this hour of my trouble.

"I was born near Shelbyville in the year 1895 and at the present time am 19 years old. My mother having died when I was but three years old, the care and responsibility of myself was placed in the hands of my sister, now dead.

"I was educated in the common schools of Shelbyville where I received a fairly good education and later was sentenced to the Indiana reform school for boys where I served eighteen months, being paroled and discharged November 10, 1913.

"Citizens, the only reason I can give for committing this act of grand larceny of which you know, as well as I that I am guilty, was simply to get to Indianapolis where I expected to get employment in some of the local printing offices of that city, having received about two years experience in the printing trade, and so far in my travels I have found no difficulty in getting employment in most all the offices where I have called.

"I am now looking down upon the citizens of Rushville to act as my personal friend in this hour of my trouble and will pledge to the people of this town that if given a chance I will more than gladly redeem myself for this act which I have committed and will not only endeavor to live the right kind of a life but will pledge myself before the almighty God above me that I will live a good and honest life and will always remember the kind act of the people here.

"Please do not think that I am asking you to lay aside this trouble and let me go unpunished as I would like to be given a short jail sentence or a suspended sentence from the Jeffersonville reformatory, for I am a young man not afraid of work and believe that I am too young to be sent to that place and hope the good people here will listen to my call. I lost my mother when I was but a small child and I firmly believe that there are many in this town who will admit with me that when one loses his mother he has lost his best friend.

"I firmly believe that Prosecutor Smith and Mr. Spillman will do all in their power to help me and would like for the court to show me some consideration. My father is a poor

SUIT BROUGHT TO REMOVE NOMINEE

Marion County Democratic Committee Alleges Frank X. O'Brien, On Its Ticket, is Thief.

HIS POLICE RECORD CITED

Action Charges O'Brien Gained Nomination Through "Fraud, Misrepresentation and Deceit"

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 27.—Suit was filed in superior court today to remove Frank X. O'Brien from the Marion county Democratic ticket as candidate for juvenile court judge. The suit was filed in the name of the state of Indiana on relation of Newton M. Taylor, present juvenile court judge and the democratic candidate whose vote was second to O'Brien in the primaries. The suit alleges that O'Brien practiced "fraud, misrepresentation and deceit on the voters of Marion county at the primaries." The complaint alleges that O'Brien is the same John F. O'Brien, who bears a police record in St. Louis, Mo., and that the complaint is backed by Bertillon records in that city.

Judge Taylor said today that the suit is filed at the request of the Democratic county committee and that the decision to file the suit was reached about midnight last night at a meeting in the K. of P. building. The purpose of the suit is to oust O'Brien from the ticket and substitute the name of Judge Taylor.

The complaint alleges that the Bertillon record of John F. O'Brien, alias Frank X. O'Brien, reads as follows:

"January 23, 1903, John F. O'Brien, 1908 St. Louis avenue, 30 years old, was arrested about 9 p. m. on Carr street and Broadway in company with Charles Gorman, Edward Sweeney, Henry Hannon, Joseph Rosewell and John Laker. They are well known thieves, ex-convicts and robbers. O'Brien is the son of Old John, alias, Nosey O'Brien and a brother of Nap and Yommie, alias Mouse O'Brien, a family of thieves.

"Put on the 'holdover,' sent to police court, charge idling.

"Arrested in the Ohio saloon, Seventh and Market streets, April 3, 1904 on general principles. He is a thief and hobo. Put on 'holdover,' sent to police court. Charge idling. Detectives Cremin and Finan.

"January 28, 1903. First district police court. Charge idling; discharged.

"April 7, 1904, charge idling; fined $100. Execution stayed until 6 p. m.

"April 5, 1896. Charge petit larceny. Court of criminal correction; three months in workhouse."

WATCH YOUR BALLOTS

Republican voters in Rush county are urged to see that their ballots are not mutilated November 3. Republicans may profit from an experience in the first precinct in Rushville in the city election last November when thirty-one Republicans were disfranchised. Thirty-four ballots were mutilated by being marked on the back with a lead pencil. Thirty-one of the ballots thus destroyed were Republicans, two Democrats and one Progressive. The Republicans have no representation on the election board. The warning is simply given that Republicans should watch their ballots. Voters can not put their ballots in the box, but they can watch them inserted.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

If a Merchant Offers a Cut Price

on any article of merchandise he has to sell. One of two things has happened—He has either lost confidence in his own judgment and is afraid his ware will not sell at the price he placed on it, or he is playing you, Mr. Buyer, for an easy mark and is simply using cut price advertising for bait and if you are a fish and like the bait, he is going to land you. If a merchant puts an honest profit on what he has to sell when he first offers it for sale, it will remove all temptations to cut prices. Wouldn't you rather buy what you need from the man that has one price and especially when that price is lower than the cut prices of his competitors, and you don't have to wait until a sale day to get what you want. If you want to trade where you pay the same price every day in the year and where you don't pay any more any time than the other fellow, we want to sell you your buggies. And as to the styles, we have all the new ones in storm buggies there are on any market, but you know where the styles all originate. Remember, we sold Colonial styles two years ago. We have found better things now. Take a look—then you will know.

Vapor Treatments for Cold Troubles

Are now used in all hospitals. The vapors carry the medication to the lungs and air passages without disturbing the stomach. When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve is applied over the throat and chest, these vapors—of Menthol, Thymol, Eucalyptol, Camphor, and Pine Tar—are released by the heat of the body. Usually the worst colds go in one night—croup in fifteen minutes. Vick's is fine for head colds, asthma, and catarrh, and is absolutely harmless. Three sizes—from 25c up.

75 MEN IN MINE ARE UNACCOUNTED FOR

Gas Explosion at Herrin, Ill., Today Entombs 373 Miners But 282 Are Rescued Alive.

15 BODIES ARE RECOVERED

(By United Press.)
Herrin, Ill., Oct. 27.—The time-keeper of the North mine of the Franklin Coal & Coke company at Royalton, which was wrecked today by a terrific gas explosion, said this afternoon that 373 men had entered the mine before the explosion; that 282 had been rescued alive, though many badly injured and the 15 bodies had been recovered. This leaves 75 men unaccounted for and supposed to be trapped in the burning west entry.

The explosion occurred at 7:25 o'clock. A volunteer corps was quickly formed from among miners who had not yet entered the mine. James Harris, a volunteer, was first to enter. He ran frantically about calling for his son. He found 15 dazed and injured miners in a pocket led them out untouched by the flames.

Mr. Wesling will conduct a green house in the Stewart & Tompkins addition.

Tomorrow night the two reel Selig drama "The Speck on the Wall" will be featured.

On Thursday, October 29th, English's Opera House will present the first grand opera of the season when the New York Grand Opera Company will play a one night's engagement at that theatre. This organization is composed of stars gathered from every grand opera organization in the world and offer only the best in the way of performers and opera. Two unusual features will go to make this a banner engagement—one, the singing of the opera is English, and the other the low scale of prices. In fact, the visitors to English's on Thursday evening, October 29th, will hear a company of stars at the price they usually pay for one.

The old adage that—"Youth will be served"—has been exemplified in several of the plays in which Charles Frohman has presented Miss Billie Burk, but in none of them quite as strongly as in "Jerry," the American comedy by Catherine Chisholm Cushing in which Miss Burke will be seen at the English Opera House, Indianapolis, Friday and Saturday, October 30th and 31st, with matinee the 31st. The "Jerry" of the play is a young American girl who—like lots of other young American girls wants what she wants when she wants it. In this particular instance she wants a certain man for a husband. The man has been engaged to her aunt for twenty years, but that doesn't make any difference to "Jerry." She wants him and she takes him by a strategy that is most amusing—as amusing as it is effective.

Are They Yoked?

Only the election will prove whether or not thinking voters of the Progressive and Democratic parties in Rushville and Ripley townships are yoked up with a few bosses at the head of the two parties. The trick of the bosses has already been exposed. They made a deal whereby the Democrats were not to nominate a township ticket in the two townships mentioned and were to vote for the candidate on the Progressive township tickets. In return, the Progressive bosses arranged for the rank and file of their party, just like they were voting a block of stock at a directors meeting, to vote for the Democratic candidates for judge and prosecutor, the Progressives not being able to find candidates for either of these offices.

Only Nov. 3 will tell whether the voters of the Progressive and Democratic party are willing to wear the yoke of the bosses, for bosses they surely are. It was they who decided not to nominate township tickets. They, a handful of fellows who presume to run the party in this county, did not call a meeting of the Democratic voters of Rush county to consult them whether township tickets should be named in Rushville and Ripley township. Using high handed methods, they, the bosses, decided there would be no nominating convention. In other years the Democrats have had tickets in these townships.

There can be no doubt about the "deal." No one has denied it. It matters little if they do. The evidence is all against them. The Democrats have no township ticket in the townships mentioned and the Progressives have no judicial ticket. Activity on the part of Democratic candidates and politicians in attending Progressive meetings is more evidence that can not be refuted. It is simply a case wherein a few of the bosses will have to take their medicine. There are a lot of voters in both parties who have already said they would refuse to listen to the dictates of a few men.

Hypocrisy Exposed

In his speech to a tremendous crowd at Fort Wayne, William E. Borah, of Idaho, a genuinely progressive member of the United States senate, called attention to the very striking difference between the professions and the performances of Senator Beveridge on the tariff and other questions. Senator Borah said:

"Ex-Senator Beveridge says I have no right to talk progressivism. I never looked for a personal quarrel from any one but when a personal quarrel is forced upon me, I never run away from it. Now about that Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. I have always been and always will be a protectionist unless I lose my mind before I die. In the Payne-Aldrich tariff fight I favored a provision for an income tax amendment so that if we reduced the tariff we would still have funds enough left to run the government. In the first fight on the Payne-Aldrich matter Beveridge voted with Aldrich. In the second fight Beveridge voted with Aldrich. On the third fight Beveridge didn't vote at all. In the other fights we find Beveridge's record like this:

"Fourth—Beveridge didn't vote.
"Fifth—Beveridge didn't vote.
"Sixth—Beveridge didn't vote.
"Seventh—Beveridge was absent.
"Eighth—Beveridge voted with Aldrich.

"Ninth—Beveridge did not vote; he was absent for some cause known to himself.

"All through the contest Beveridge was linking his name with Aldrich and the others to kill that amendment. No one knew where Beveridge stood on that question. Beveridge never raised his eloquent voice in favor of the direct election of United States senators and his vote was almost invariably against what he now says he stands for and he has no right to go out over the state and criticize the ones who disagree with him."

WATCH YOUR BALLOTS

Republican voters in Rush county are urged to see that their ballots are not mutilated November 3. Republicans may profit from an experience in the first precinct in Rushville in the city election last November when thirty-one Republicans were disfranchised. Thirty-four ballots were mutilated by being marked on the back with a lead pencil. Thirty-one of the ballots thus destroyed were Republicans, two Democrats and one Progressive. The Republicans have no representation on the election board. The warning is simply given that Republicans should watch their ballots. Voters can not put their ballots in the box, but they can watch them inserted.

BEVERIDGE DESERTED
BY JUDGE U. Z. WILEY

Well Known Jurist Says Progressive Party is Now But Ally of Democratic Party.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—Judge U. Z. Wiley, who for twelve years sat on the Indiana Appellate bench, was one of the biggest figures in the Roosevelt-Beveridge movement in Indiana in 1912. Today Republican State Chairman Will H. Hays received a letter from Judge Wiley in which he carefully reviewed the present political situation and announced that he had decided to support the whole Republican ticket. In the course of his letter Judge Wiley made it plain that the Progressive party had degenerated into an ally of the Democratic party and warned the voters of the state not to be fooled by the protestations of political virtue that are going up from the designing bosses of the Bull Moose party. Regarding the bi-partisan alliance Judge Wiley said:

"The Progressive party of today, through its leaders, but not its rank and file, appears to be the bitterest enemy that the Republican party has, and they are now hurling anathemas upon the Republican party that would put to shame a Democratic ward politician, and yet this is just what is being done in the campaign of 1914. It appears to be no longer a political battle between the Democratic and Republican parties, but has resolved itself into a battle between the Democratic party and the Progressive party, as its ally, on one side, and the Republican party on the other."

DEMOCRATIC EDITOR
WARNS PARTY BOSSESClinton Paper Says Party is in Danger From Republicans.

CLINTON, Ind., Oct. 7.—The editor of the Clinton Saturday Argus has just enough of the old fashioned about him to cause him to sit right down and write out some plain truths for the members of his party to contemplate, every little bit, whether it's exactly the kind of news Democrats like to read or not. Under the heading, "Progressives Desert, Candidates Withdraw and Party Disintegrates," the Argus has this to say in its last issue:

"Nothing can more completely illustrate the sheer folly of trying to make a great political party to order, to suit a few leaders, than the phenomena of the present condition of the Progressive party in this country. It seems to be following the path of the old Greenback party—back into its original elements. Men who were nominated on many tickets have declined to run and publish their intention of voting the Republican ticket.

"The Argus editor was informed, Monday, by one of the former leaders in the Progressive party, a prominent business man on Main street, that he was 'off the wagon.' Said he, 'I shall vote the Republican ticket in November, with two exceptions. Why? Because we always have good times under Republican rule, and I propose to let well enough alone.'

"When asked what per cent. of the Progressives in Clinton he believed would follow such a course, he replied that 'every man in his place of business would vote the Republican ticket, and that two-thirds of the party would desert the party.'

"Democratic leaders who have been counting on an easy walkover in November should take warning at this condition and make their campaign fight on the straightout issues that divide the Democratic and Republican parties."

William McKinley: "With me protection is a conviction, not a theory. I believe in it and warmly advocate it, because enveloped in it are my country's highest development and greatest prosperity; out of it comes the greatest gain to the people, the greatest comfort to the masses, the widest encouragement for manly aspiration, the best and largest rewards for honest efforts and a dignifying and elevating citizenship, upon which the safety and purity and permanency of our political system depend."

CATCH 'EM COMING AND GOING

Democrats in state, county and township have not only raised the tax rate throughout Indiana, but they have increased the valuation of taxable property, thereby catching the taxpayers both coming and going and providing funds, even now insufficient to maintain the extravagant administration of public affairs. The fact that at this time the Democratic party is controlled by the Crawford Fairbanks-Terre Haute Brewing Company-Tom Taggart-Donn Roberts-Joe Bell machine precludes the possibility of any relief for the taxpayers of Indiana should the Democratic party carry the election this year. The next legislature, if Democratic, is certain to be more subservient to the ring than the notorious legislature of 1913. Taggart and Fairbanks have already laid their lines, even to the extent of picking their candidate for speaker of the house, should the Democrats win. The great uprising among the voters this year in favor of the Republican cause shows that the taxpayers are unwilling to take another chance.

DEMOCRAT BE-COMES REPUBLICAN.

Newcastle, Ind., Sept. 30.—Robert Boocock, of this city, who has voted the Democratic ticket ever since he came to this country from England, announces that he will vote the straight Republican ticket this year. He gave as his reason dissatisfaction with existing business conditions as the result of the operations of a de-normalizing Democratic tariff law.

A NURSE TAKES DOCTOR'S ADVICE

And is Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Euphemia, Ohio.—"Because of total ignorance of how to care for myself when verging into womanhood, and from taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 18 years.

"The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor, and have been blessed with excellent health for a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a maternity nurse and being wholly self-supporting I cannot over estimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home just by sewing and nursing. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results, as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth."

—Miss EVELYN ADELIA STEWART, Euphemia, Ohio.

Much Life Wasted In War By Lack Of Medical Attention

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Senlis, France, Oct. 6. (By mail to New York)—One horror of war is the life that is wasted for lack of medical attention. There are plenty of ambulances and doctors but these cannot reach wounded men who are lying in the firing zone and so suffering men must wait as best they can without water or attention until the battle has passed on. In the meantime blood poison sets in and the slightest wounds become fatal.

One young English lieutenant who had lain on the battlefield for two days with a slight wound in his leg was found with the limb distended with gas. He was taken to a hospital and the leg was cut off, but he died within two days from the poison which had entered his blood. Another young English officer had the upper joint of his right middle finger shot away. Two days later he reached Paris and went into a hospital where he died within a few days of tetanus.

The French army officials try to force soldiers to carry small vials of antiseptic with which they might wash a small wound but the men throw them away as soon as they get tired and want to lessen the weight of their packs.

A tired, superlatively dirty soldier staggered into the little cafe in the town of Villers Cotteret. His senses seemed stunned. He asked for a drink of hot coffee listlessly. Then, in excellent English he asked me for a cigarette.

"It's a wonder I'm alive," he said. "I never thought I would get back to the world again. For seven days and six nights I have been with my company in the ditches or in the woods. It was terribly cold. When it rained we could not make fires because of the enemy. We could only lay down on the bare ground in our wet clothes and try to sleep. The food outfit couldn't find us for two days because we were stationed in a forest. When we did get food, we were so hungry that we all ate too much and everybody became ill, even our captain. I was too sick and weak to be happy when they came out to the firing line two hours ago and brought us back here to the village. We used to wish that we could get into a fight so that we would either be killed or wounded and have it over with."

The little French soldier had been an interpreter in a business house for twelve years and hadn't slept out of a decent bed or missed a regular meal in all that time.

"I'm not used to such a life," he concluded, still talking in a dazed and unnatural way, "but I suppose I'll have to go out there again with my company as same as we get a little rest. If I could not keep warm and dry I could stand all the rest."

He shivered and asked for another bowl of hot coffee.

Just as he was reaching into his pocket to get the money to settle his bill, he fell forward on the table in a faint. A Red Cross crew carried him off to a hospital where he could get the rest he wanted. His face was chalk-white under his week's growth of beard but his long, delicate fingers were dirty, with grime under the nails. How he had stood as much hardship, was a wonder, and yet in France today there are thousands of his sort, who if they do not die by bullets will succumb to cold and hardship. It is harder for such men to face a slow and inevitable death under conditions which they cannot leave than to face the end in the form of shell fire. The few of them who reach the hospitals are like the few lucky winners in a grand lottery.

TRIAL TO UNFOLD ROMANTIC STORY

Secrets Guarded for Half Century Expected to be Brought Out in Dykeman Will Case

WOMAN IS SUING FOR $300,000

(By United Press.)

Kokomo, Ind., Oct. 27.—Secrets jealously guarded for half a century, which will touch intimately the family life of an Indiana jurist, will be laid bare during the progress of the Dykeman will case opening here today. Mrs. Pauline Levinson is suing for $300,000. To prove her right to this sum, she must demonstrate that she is the illegitimate child of David D. Dykeman, deceased of Logansport. She must prove also that Judge Dykeman either was of unsound mind or was improperly influenced when he made his will.

The trial, it is believed, will unfold one of the most romantic stories ever brought to light in an Indiana court. There is said to be little doubt that Mrs. Levinson can establish her relationship to the Judge, but she will experience more difficulty in proving that the judge was unsound of mind or improperly influenced when he made his will, which consisted of numerous public bequests.

Mrs. Levinson knows that she must bare the judge's secret, but she is said to be prepared to make a bitter and extended fight. She represents that she is the daughter of the judge through Amy E. Seymour, a woman with whom the judge is alleged to have maintained illicit relations for a long period of years. She claims to be the only heir at law and is entitled to the property.

Judge Dykeman's will directed the executioner A. J. Jenkins, to deed 100 acres adjoining the city of Logansport to the city for a park.

GIVES ADVICE ON CORN GROWING

corn that will come up to the requirements.

The speakers pointed out that the grain dealers could not make or change the product of the farmers and that it was up to the farmers to grow better corn as he benefits to the farmer and grain dealer would be increased. The farmers know that the quality of corn grown controls the grade and the price the farmer received. The speakers here urged the farmers to grow corn that would meet the demands of the trade.

It was pointed out that many farmers in Indiana are growing corn that is too large and too late in maturing and at harvest time this corn contains a high per cent of moisture which makes it unsuitable for market. This corn is also injured many times, according to the speakers, by heavy frosts which reduce its value for seed and feeding purposes. The men insisted that more can be accomplished through the use of varieties of corn that are medium in size and which will mature in time to avoid danger of freezing and which will dry out sufficiently so that it can be marketed to good advantage.

The speakers also told of the best way to plant corn, stating that it was not necessary to have large corn to have a large yield. It was shown that if corn is planted in hills three and one-half feet apart both ways with two stocks in each hill and each stock bearing an average ear weighing twelve ounces, the yield would be seventy-five bushels to the acre. At present the average is about forty bushels to the acre.

RECALL ELECTION IS HELD

Portland Voting Today Whether to Let Officials Continue

(By United Press.)

Portland, Ore., Oct. 27.—Portland citizens today are deciding in special election whether Mayor H. R. Albee is to be recalled from office. Other alleged offenders against the will of the people are City Commissioners Dieck and Brewster.

These officials have been in office since June, 1913 when the commission form of government—which includes the recall proviso—was inaugurated. These petitions were filed with City Auditor Barbur demanding the recall but no specific charges of malfeasance were mentioned.

A Warning to Many Some Interesting Facts About Kidney Troubles.

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's disease which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in 1913, in the state of New York alone. Therefore, it behooves us to pay more attention to the health of these most important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.

If you feel that your kidneys require attention, and wish a sample bottle, write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper, enclose ten cents and they will gladly forward it to you by Parcel Post.

Swamp-Root is sold by every druggist, in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00.

CLOSE STREETS FOR CHILDREN

Certain Hours During Day New York Turns Several Highways
Over to Kids For Playgrounds.

IS SAID TO PREVENT CRIME

Arrests For Obstructing Sidewalks
Falls Off—Traffic Closed Prevents Accidents.

BY CARLTON TEN EYCK.
(Written for United Press.)

New York, Oct. 27.—“Close some of your streets for a few hours every day and let the kiddies play all they want to on them and any kind of games they want to and you will have less child crime.”

That is the statement hurled at the city officials by Miss Ruth Robinson, chief “play organizer” with the People’s Institute. The city officials have hearkened to Miss Robinson’s advice. Several public streets are now being closed in New York from three to six o’clock every afternoon. A sign board reading:

“Street Closed for Play”, is posted at each end of the section which is closed and an officer posted there there to see that no motorist, truck driver or anyone else gets past.

And you should see the kiddies troop to this temporary public playground. They come singly, in twos, threes and in whole crowds.

It is a mighty interesting sight to watch these kiddies when they are turned loose on the street playground for the first time. They are shy of it, mighty shy, for they have always been taught—by officers of the law—that no playing was allowed on the street.

One of the People’s Institute organizers has to come along and start the kiddies to playing before they really cut loose and do anything. It is mighty hard at first to teach them that they can play hop-scotch, “bean bag,” London Bridge is Falling Down, or any other of the games dear to childhood without fear of being run down by an auto or arrested by a policeman. But once they do get into their mind that they can play, then with what a zest they do go about having their fun.

They have been restricted from playing so long, have been squelched by parents, brothers and by policemen so often for even attempting anything like a game on the sidewalk that when they are turned loose they act much like starving persons would if they were pushed into a room full of food. They try to play every game they ever heard of. They run actually wild with joy for awhile—so joyous are they at being allowed to play as they please.

“It brings an ache to the heart,” said Miss Robinson, “to see how reluctant some of these babes are to cut loose and play in the open street. Play seems inextricably associated in their little minds with guilt.”

“Indeed child crimes in New York is built on play, which street conditions prevent until it becomes moral crime.”

“The first arrest of any small boy is usually punishment for some attempt at play. Pitching a ball, perhaps or swatting a cat or kicking a can or blocking the pavement with a game of marbles.”

“Naturally, resentment grows in the mind of such a child. The idea of retaliation creeps. The mite wants to ‘get even.’ So he breaks a window or steals from the corner grocer or upsets Mrs. McGinnis’ garbage barrel and puts himself eventually on the road to the reformatory.”

“If street play could be carried out in exactly the same way as in the open country, it would have no suggestion of crime in it. It would not lead, as it does now, to a natural antagonism between the child (for being a nuisance) and the adult citizen (for being a tyrant.)

“Childhood tend by nature to develop play leadership. With a little adult guidance and encouragement this can be made more useful than any play supervision.

“No one, after watching for an hour or two, the healthy spirit that grows among the children in these allotted play streets, can doubt their benefit to the little people of New York.” Miss Robinson’s statement that the arrests of children first start over playing on the street is verified by the figures of the police department. There were 12,000 children arrested last year on charges of obstructing the sidewalk. These children were all playing, either marbles or some other such innocent game.

Playing on the street may not be such fun as diving in the old swimmin’ hole, climbing apple trees or such sports that are dear to the country kiddies but it is certain that it is better than nothing. And if the city officials give them the streets for a few hours each day to themselves, keeping all traffic off, it is a cinch that the children will have more arms and legs than they probably would otherwise.

SHORT COURSE IS TO BE DISCUSSED

rooms for holding the short course. In addition to providing room, it would be a part of the work of this committee to fit the rooms up so that classes could be held in them, such as arranging for seating, lighting, heating and ventilation.

The rooms, the Purdue suggestions say, should be located within forty or fifty rods of one another. They should be heated so as to be comfortable, with good ventilation and the average amount of light anyway. Long, narrow rooms, with windows only at the ends, or rooms with low ceilings, the Purdue workers find, do not give the best results for the community.

One of the requirements of the committee on rooms would be to find a suitable one for a general lecture hall which would seat at least four hundred people. A church, court room or school auditorium would be satisfactory. A room which would allow the use of a lantern at night would be desired. This room would be used for lectures during the day and evening meetings.

The corn judging room should be about fifty by sixty, with large high windows on at least two sides.

The stock judging room should be, if possible, a stock sale pavilion with raised seats for about two hundred people. An abundance of light is necessary for this room.

The room for domestic science should seat from at least 150 to 200 people. If possible, raised seats would be very desirable for this room so it would be possible to

SCIATICA GIVES FAIR WARNING

Start Taking Rheuma at Once and Prevent Rheumatism from Becoming Chronic

Sharp, darting pains from the hips down the legs to the knees are signals of approach of sciatic, and should be treated at once to prevent rheumatism becoming chronic.

Rheuma dislodges the little uric acid crystals in the blood vessels feeding the great sciatic nerve and creates a free movement of the muscles and joints. It stimulates the kidneys, liver, bowels and skin to extra work in throwing off the irritating poisons throughout the system.

Read the testimony of Guy Torley, the great cyclist, of 265 Dayton avenue, St. Paul, Minn.: “I was so crippled with sciatic rheumatism in my hips that I could not walk without crutches. I spent over $300 with out relief. Was persuaded to try Rheuma, and after taking three bottles the rheumatism had entirely left me.”

F. B. Johnson & Co., and all druggists sell Rheuma. It is good for all forms of rheumatism, and costs so little you cannot afford to suffer for want of it.

THE RECALL ELECTION

The First One Held in Denver Under the Commission Form of Government and It Proved a Fizzle.

By J. Feudner

The city of Denver is governed by a "commission form of government," and they also have the "Initiative and Referendum and the Recall." In my article on the "Recall" last June, I mentioned that the machinery for the recall of Commissioner of Safety, Nisbet, was put in motion by circulating a petition to get signers for the recall of this officer.

The petition received the required number of signers and was then filed with the proper authorities. The law requires that if the signatures are bona fide, an election must be called in thirty days. But some technical questions came up and there was some legal sparring, but the court finally decided that an election must be called. The elections for the recall was then set for Friday, October 16th.

In regard to the recall the city charter of Denver reads: "Any elective officer is subject to recall and may be removed from office by petition of the electors and an election held thereunder, but no person shall be so removed from office within six months after his election thereto. The petition shall name the officer to be removed and be signed by qualified electors equal in number to at least 25 per cent. of the vote cast in the city, district or ward, as the case may be, for all candidates for such office at the election at which such officer was elected, and shall contain a statement of the grounds upon which it is sought to remove him. It is then the duty of the council after the petition has been examined and the names found genuine and of sufficient number to call an election within 60 to 90 days."

Commissioner Nisbet became a candidate for re-election, and beside him there were nine other candidates—the office being a lucrative one, paying $5,000 a year.

Politics in Colorado, or at least here in Denver seem to me to be peculiar. It is hard for me to get the hang of things. Besides the recall election, there is to be held a state election in two weeks for the election of state officers, U. S. senator and congressmen, and two amendments to the constitution of the state—the most talked of one being "Amendment No. 2" for state-wide prohibition. But so far I have not seen or noticed any political agitation or campaigning. No, doubt, though, there is plenty of "gam shoe" work being done. The recall election last Friday showed this. Commissioner Nisbet was re-elected to his office by a majority of 5,822, and the recall is regarded as a complete fizzle and an expensive one besides. It is estimated that this recall election cost the city of Denver between twenty and thirty thousand dollars.

From stray remarks that I have heard concerning this new form of government inaugurated about a year ago and the complaints that are being made, I have come to the conclusion that for a city to change to a commission form of government is simply making a change from one kind of municipal troubles to another kind. The general result is the same. Human nature cannot be changed by law.

The Trinidad Chronicle-News comments on the result of the recall election as follows:

"Once again the spite work of a recall petition has been demonstrated and sober second thought turned the scales of justice.

"Nisbet got in bad first with the would-be reformers of Denver who opposed what they termed his 'open town' policy, and he was condemned by the so-called moral element.

"Next, much feeling was aroused when an anti-Catholic lecturer was kidnapped taken in an automobile to a lonely road and beaten up. It was charged that Nisbet and the police did not take any steps to arrest the kidnappers and assailants, hence a recall petition was started. "There were ten candidates on the ballot. It cost the taxpayers a goodly sum of money to hold the special election. Nisbet, however, was the choice of the people by a big majority.

"The weakness of the Denver form of commission government was shown. The form of government itself has been successful but the danger of the recall was clearly manifest—that is to say when the recall is started for no other purpose than to satisfy the envy, hatred and malice of a certain clique of politicians who cannot manipulate things to suit themselves.

The Denver Express, who was against Nisbet under the heading "Lessons of the Recall," says:

"It showed the power of the office holder. Nearly every person on the city pay roll voted to keep Nisbet in office on the theory that the recall might lead to to other recalls and subsequent changes of the city hall. And that was a perfectly natural, human bread-and-butter point of view for city job holders to assume.

"It showed that a large number of people, mostly men who have learned from sad experience that frequent elections make it almost impossible to conduct business in a normal way, are tired of the expense and turmoil of elections every six months.

"It showed that any strong candidate who can scatter his opposition, as Nisbet's was scattered among nine other candidates and concentrate his own support, will win under the preferential system of voting nine times out of ten.

"By the same token it showed that no hit-or-miss assault on an official, who has been delinquent in his duty, will be successful."

On the day of the recall election I visited two precinct polling places. These were being located in private residences and there was no outward sign that anything was going on, except a small sign giving the number of the precinct and an indexed list of registered voters hanging to the outside veranda or door post. There were no people congregated on the outside and the election machinery was in the hands of women—only one man being present at one precinct. (The women vote in Colorado.)

The "preferential system" of voting is in vogue here, the ballots giving space for first, second and

NO SMOKE! NO SOOT! NO DIRT! NO CLINKERS! EVERYTHING IS CONSUMED

At the end of a season's use with soft coal, there will be no soot in the pipe or flue.

The only jointless leg bottom and base with full radiation and large ash pan that is on the market or has ever been made in the history of stove industry.

The jointless leg bottom and base make the stove airtight below the grate, which is the only true fire keeping principle. It will be as good a fire keeper twenty years hence as it is today. The only perfect floor heater that is or has ever been made.

All features are patented and no stove manufacturer, dealer or user can copy or use same for seventeen years from date of patent without incurring liability for an action for damages.

THE HOT BLAST AIR-TIGHT FLORENCE burns soft coal or slack and all the smoke and gases. No filling up of the stove, pipe or flue with soot. No dirt inside or outside the house. It will burn wood. It will produce one-half less ashes than any other stove on earth with any kind of fuel and leave no clinkers or half consumed fuel.

other choices. This was a "new one on me." So I investigated this part of the Denver election feature. For instance the election results showed that Nisbet received on first choice 25,708 votes; 1,125 on second choice and 950 on other choices. Another candidate received 1,485 votes on first choice, 2,633 on second choice and 12,445 on other choices.

The law of the Denver city charter governing this preferential system of voting reads as follows:

"When the number of candidates is more than three times the number of offices to be filled, the ballots shall give first, second and other choices.

"When the number of candidates is not more than two times the number of offices to be filled and not more than three times, the ballots shall give first and second choice only.

"When the number of candidates is not more than two times the number of offices to be filled only one column for marking votes shall appear."

The counting of this preferential vote is regulated by the city charter as follows:

"If a ballot contains more than one vote for the same candidate, only the vote highest in rank shall be counted. If a ballot contains more votes under any choice than there are places to be filled, no vote in such column shall be counted, but said vote shall be credited in the column marked 'other choices.'

"Candidates receiving a majority of first choice votes for any office shall be elected.

"If any candidates to be elected do not receive a majority of the first choice votes for such office, a canvass shall then be made of the second choice votes received by those candidates for said office who are not elected by first choice votes; said second choice votes shall be added to the first choice votes received by such candidates and candidates who by such additions receive a majority over the total vote for first choice, shall be elected.

"If by the count of either first choice votes or added first and second choice votes, as above provided, more than one candidate shall receive a majority, the candidate having the highest vote shall be elected.

"If a candidate to be elected does not receive a majority either by first choice votes or first and second choice votes, as above directed, a canvass shall then be made of the other choice votes for said office, said other choice votes shall then be added to the first and second choice votes received by such candidates, and the candidates who receive the highest number of votes by said addition shall be elected.

"A tie between two or more candidates shall be decided in favor of the one having the highest number of first choice votes. If they are also equal in that respect, then the highest number of record choice votes shall determine the result. If this does not decide then the tie shall be determined by lot.

the valves are easily removed through the base of the pump as the illustrations show. The cost is little more than the price of the repair. You can do it. The only tool needed is a monkey wrench.

Compare this with the time, trouble and expense of removing ordinary pumps from the well, to make the same repair. You see it's not the cost of the leather but the cost of putting it on.

This and other economical features of 'So Easy-To-Fix' pumps will be explained at your request.

I should like very much to interview you personally, but my duties as Bookkeeper at ONEAL BROS. prevent my calling on you.

I therefore take this method of calling your attention to the fact that the office of County Assessor should be conducted upon business principles, which I assure you I will do if elected. ARRANGES TO PAY
AMOUNT OF CHECK

Mrs. B. J. Arnold of Near Newpoint Promises to Settle With Local Store.

CASE WILL NOT BE PUSHED

The passing of a bad check in the E. R. Casady dry goods store in Rushville last Thursday by an unknown woman caused the management of the store to make a search in this county, as it was thought that the woman came here and yesterday afternoon Mrs. B. J. Arnold, of near Newpoint, was identified as the woman who had passed the worthless paper, says the Greensburg Review. She made arrangements to pay the $10.41 the check called for and also $10 additional for the hire of an auto which was used Saturday afternoon in making the trip here.

The woman at the time of the passing of the check had a boy with her, and shortly before visiting the dry goods store had been looking at some stoves in the hardware store near there. It was in this way that Mr. Casady secured her address, as she left it with the hardware store asking that a catalogue be sent to her.

The case against her will not be pushed if she settles the bill as she promised she would.

Arthur Hall Files Assault and Battery Charges Against Bert Osborn and Charles Winship.

LATTER ACTS AS PEACEMAKER

Arthur Hall, employed by Bert Eakins north of the city, filed assault and battery charges against Bert Osborn and Charles Winship yesterday afternoon before Mayor Bebout. Prosecutor Smith was out of the city today and the cases have not been set for trial, but the two men notified Mayor Bebout they would come when wanted.

The men fought yesterday afternoon in front of the Brown Brothers grocery in East First street. The cause of the fight is not known. Hall and Osborn first fought and then Winship is alleged to have acted as peacemaker and in doing so hit Hall in the mouth with a stone. Hall is said to have held his own with Osborn but the fight ended when Winship struck him with the stone.

Defense in Cheney Damage Suit Pushes Case and May Rest by Wednesday Afternoon.

BETTER PROGRESS IS MADE

Attorneys for the defendants in the trial of the Cheney damage case hazarded the prediction at the noon hour today that they might finish their side of the case by Wednesday night, says the Shelbyville Democrat. Better progress is being made in the trial seemingly since the examination of witnesses for the defendants was begun, but even if the defendants rest Wednesday evening there will be much time still to be spent in rebuttal.

Among the witnesses heard today were Edward Harlow, Elsie Ruff, James Ochiltree, Lee Link, Carlton Cheney, Oliver McConnell and Stephen T. McConnell. Witnesses examined for the defendant Saturday afternoon were Clarence Gray, Joseph Baker, Thomas Bishop, Chase Guffin, Fred Moore, Clifford Barnes and M. F. Shank.
